Questions 153–157 refer to the following newspaper article.

Job trends for the future emphasize careers in sales and marketing. Most of the growth will come in international sales, high technology, and electronic marketing. Research shows that overseas sales of high tech equipment and technology will increase 20% in the next decade.

The Internet is the primary source for advertising and marketing to these overseas customers. At the same time, however, successful marketers must find new avenues to increase consumer awareness of their products. As some clients become inundated by information on the Internet, and as others are still just learning to navigate the Web, the marketers of the future will have to be inventive.

More traditional sales skills, such as bilingualism and an agreeable character, are still useful. Willingness to travel is also a plus.

153. What kinds of careers show promise for the future?
- (A) Research and development
 - (B) Sales and marketing
 - (C) High technology
 - (D) Travel agents
154. Why are these careers increasing in importance?
- (A) Companies are trying to focus on profits.
 - (B) They address a neglected market segment.

 - (D) Most marketing will occur on the Internet.
155. The word avenues in paragraph 2, line 5, is closest in meaning to
- (A) streets
 - (B) ways
 - (C) stores
 - (D) sales
156. The author believes that the successful marketer must be
- (A) bilingual
 - (B) overseas
 - (C) abreast of research
 - (D) creative
157. According to the article, why isn't Internet advertising always effective?
- (A) Some users see too much of it; some see too little.
 - (B) Many users have limited English skills.
 - (C) Access to the web may be limited.
 - (D) Consumers are unaware of products advertised on the Internet.

Questions 158–159 refer to the following announcement.

We are announcing today that we are bringing the Milestone and Ever Green brands even closer together. Effective December 5, 20—, our official name will be:

GREEN MILES WEST

The substitution of “West” in our name—replacing “California”—is the result of an agreement we reached with the California Gardening Association, following a protest over the original use of “California” in our name.

We hope this does not create any confusion among our loyal consumers. While this represents a change from our initial name introduction, it does not change the quality of products we offer our customers.

158. What was the original name of the merged companies?

- (A) Milestone
- (B) Green Miles California
- (C) Green Miles West
- (D) Milestone California

159. According to the announcement, why was the name changed?

- (A) The corporate offices were relocated.
- (B) There was a conflict with another organization.
- (C) They did not like the initial choice.
- (D) Loyal consumers were confused.

Questions 160–163 refer to the following magazine article.

Hotels are changing their wasteful habits and getting involved in the move to save the environment. At major hotels throughout the world, guests are being greeted by shampoo and mouthwash in glass dispensers instead of elaborate plastic bottles. They are discovering recycling bins in their rooms, and are encouraged to use towels more than once before they are washed.

This green movement is becoming increasingly popular among tourists who look for service providers with an environmental conscience. The business of eco-tours is increasing rapidly. Travel agents are booking clients on “Save the Rainforest” expeditions and similar trips where the emphasis is on protecting the world.

The tourists on these trips are given lectures on the effects of the loss of our planet’s natural wonders and what they can do to reverse the trend. They do not need much convincing. The travelers on these excursions are already committed to environmental protection. In fact, a two-year study of litter in Antarctica found that the entire collection of litter left by visitors to the continent could be put in one small sandwich bag. Compare that amount of litter with what the average traveler finds strewn on the streets around a hotel, even an environmentally sensitive hotel.

160. What trend is currently affecting hotels and their guests?
- (A) Larger rooms
(B) Better amenities
(C) Lighter foods
(D) Protecting the earth
161. What does the article imply about glass dispensers and re-using towels?
- (A) It's a marketing gimmick.
(B) It's only effective on eco-tours.
(C) It's a wise choice environmentally.
(D) Hotels can set consumer trends.
162. Which group would most likely be members of the green movement?
- (A) Fashion designers
(B) First-time visitors
(C) Environmentally conscious travelers
(D) Golf course owners
163. According to the article, eco-travelers should expect
- (A) to find litter.
(B) to hear lectures on the environment.
(C) to pay more than other travelers.
(D) to carry their own food.

Questions 187–191 refer to the following e-mail and schedule.

To: choisoo35@korea.net
From: leebang@theaccountants.org
Subject: Transportation to and from airport

Choi Soo,

Please confirm that you received your itinerary for your flight and hotel accommodations. I e-mailed it last week, but I haven't heard back from you. I am attaching the schedule for the free shuttle service from the airport to Yongsan Terminal. Your hotel, The Sunrise Inn, is right across the street from the bus station. My only concern is that you will probably just miss the first shuttle of the day if your plane is delayed at all. The next shuttle isn't until early afternoon. Taxis are very expensive, but I think it will be worth it for you to take one instead of waiting several hours for the next shuttle bus. There are city buses, but they are complicated if you aren't familiar with them.

I'm sorry that nobody will be available to pick you up at the airport in a company car. We have an important meeting on that Thursday morning, and none of us can get out of it.

We look forward to meeting you next week. Have a safe flight and call me as soon as you are settled in your room.

See you soon,

Dear Mr. Stevens,

We at Davis Deliveries were very sorry to hear about the fire at the plant. For me it is particularly tragic because my grandfather and my great-uncle both worked at the plant for a long time. My family profited from many years of employment during the Depression because of this plant, and it is sad to see such a local landmark destroyed.

We will put a hold on your monthly order of materials until further notice. According to our records your payments are all up to date. In fact, we owe you a refund for May because you paid for the order in advance. I am enclosing a check for $1,465 to cover the materials, as well as a $50 credit to use toward your next order.

Please have someone call me (609-292-4444) with the names of the employees who were hurt in the fire. We would like to send flowers to the hospital on behalf of Davis Deliveries.

Thinking of you,

Elaine Stuart
